

A Turtle and a Bunny

Franklin the turtle, slow but wise,
Had dreams of winning the race's prize.
But Eli the bunny, quick and bright,
Saw Franklin struggle with all his might.

"Don't worry, my friend, I'll give you a tip,
Together we'll make it to the finish line in a rip!"
With every hop and careful pace,
They reached the end in second place!

The crowd cheered loud, their hearts did dance,
As Franklin and Eli shared their victory stance.
