

I am frightened
And scared
Wolves are howling
And owls are hooting
It's midnight
Nothing is in sight
I walk through the forest
I didn't know where to go as if I was a tourist
Two paths came in the distance
I wink out of existence
I take the road on the right
It's a much cleaner one in sight
I hear an eerie sound
I wish I was at the fairground
But there I was
Creeped out at every little noise that went buzz
It's just a little firefly
Lighting up the midnight sky
I wonder when this road will end
I need to go to sleepover with my friend
It's like a horror movie
Then my stomach grumbles, I want sushi!
I wish I was not here
Instead I wish I was at school reading the poems of Shakespeare
I could hear Mrs. Barnaby calling out my name
Is this some sort of VR game?
There I was sleeping in class
I rub my eyes with a magnifying glass
Had it been just a dream
All that wild scheme
